Questions to help your discussion:

1. Have you ever seen roly-polies?
2. What insects have you seen?
3. What do you think about a bug circus?
4. Can you name some foods you like to eat, but maybe not what you should eat?
5. Would a science journal help you keep track of what you observe in life?

Things to do:

1. Go to the website: zoeyandsassafras.com for some great activities that go along with this book.
2. Find some insects outside. If you can do so without touching them, put them in a jar and observe how they move. Be sure to set the free when you are finished looking.
