Dr. David DiChiera Talks Opera

Tuesday, September 12
7-8:30 p.m.
Multipurpose Room

Dr. David DiChiera was a professor and chairman of music at Oakland University and is the founder of the Michigan Opera Theatre. To celebrate Dr. DiChiera’s retirement from OU, we have invited him to share with us how American opera was influenced by European opera during the Gilded Age, including influential operas, composers and conductors along with the emergence of American opera. The program is part of our community outreach project called Smart Towns.

As a composer, DiChiera continues to receive critical acclaim. Among his works, Four Sonnets for soprano and piano, with verses by Edna St. Vincent Millay, premiered at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., and has since been widely performed. In October 2007, his opera Cyrano received its world premiere at the Detroit Opera House and was later successfully presented by the Opera Company of Philadelphia and at Florida Grand Opera in 2011.

Emerging singers from the Michigan Opera Theatre will perform a few arias from the Gilded Age under the direction of DiChiera as part of the program.

The library’s new baby grand piano will be dedicated at this event in memory of former Library Trustee, Nadine Harvey.

Go Green, Save Green
Did you know we have Kill-a-Watt power meters that are available for check out at the Circulation desk? The Kill-A-Watt power meter is intended to help you cut down on costs and find out what appliances are actually worth keeping plugged in. The monitor assesses how efficient your appliances really are.

You can use the meter to:
- Calculate cumulative kW hours used, same as your local utility
- Check the quality of your power by monitoring voltage, line frequency and power factor
- Calculate your electrical expenses by the day, week, month and year

The E’s of Libraries®

What do today’s libraries do for our communities? It’s a simple question, but one that has more answers than ever before. The services libraries provide now revolve not just around stacks of books but also around internet connections and cutting-edge digital technologies, such as 3D printers, that help people fulfill basic needs and pursue a wide range of interests. The American Library Association (ALA) is on a mission to raise awareness of this reality. In pursuit of this goal, ALA coined The E’s of Libraries® trademark to promote public awareness of all that today’s libraries, with the expert assistance of library professionals, help facilitate: Education, Employment, Entrepreneurship, Empowerment, and Engagement for Everyone, Everywhere.

Education

Rochester Hills Public Library (RHPL) contributions to education and learning range broadly from getting every child ready to read, to K-20 library services for students, to research skills-building, to continuing education and proctoring of exams. In short, libraries are critical in helping all ages ascend through education.

A - All educational activities and advancement are supported at RHPL.

S - Students, K-20, are greatly supported with respect to homework and information technology access.

C - Continuing adult education is a hallmark of RHPL, which offers nearly 500 programs a year.

E - Early learning at libraries is important to families. Our early childhood development specialist designs programs for parents and caregivers and offers caregiver-training courses that go toward their state certification.

N - Non-traditional students, i.e., home-schoolers and those seeking GEDs are supported.

D - Digital literacy and traditional literacy training are offered by information experts. RHPL offers space and resources for literacy tutors.

Employment

RHPL provides programming and services for job search and the improvement of job skills. RHPL provides computers and fast internet access so people can access job databases, resources and apply for jobs online.

Entrepreneurship

Business owners and employees can use library resources, such as Ato2Databases, to do marketing research, examine patents and support their small businesses.

Empowerment

RHPL empowers people by providing them with access to information and helping them fulfill needs related to health, government services and community engagement. In short, RHPL helps people receive what they need.

R - Resources that patrons can use to access information and pursue interests are preserved at RHPL. Librarians use their information seeking expertise to help address a wide variety of needs.

E - Educational opportunities of all kinds are available to people of all ages at the library.

C - RHPL is the community on-ramp to the world of information. Internet access, whether in the library via our computers or Wi-Fi system or via our hot spot loan service, is now one of our most sought-after services.

E - RHPL provides important e-government services as well as e-books, e-audio, e-zines and movie streaming.
I. Libraries facilitate patrons’ interactions with other members of the community.

V. Libraries provide an exceptional variety of resources to patrons. RHPL loans out almost 2 million items each year and has over 31,000 people attending library programs.

E. Libraries facilitate e-health activities. Library users research health and wellness issues, including learning about medical conditions, medical procedures or diet and nutrition, finding health care providers, and assessing health insurance options.

Engagement

RHPL provides people with information, networking and technology expertise and vast numbers of programs across numerous disciplines and interest areas. Additionally, as a public space where all are welcome, we offer people opportunities to meet and socialize with others in our community, whether at a children’s story hour, an English as a Second Language conversation group, a technology meet-up, or our family Polar Express extravaganza.

Everyone Benefits

RHPL assists people of all backgrounds, ages and financial means, in every part of our community, or as I like to say, “from womb to tomb.” We offer programming for people of all ages, preschoolers through older adults. We serve you in the library building, via phone, email, text, chat, from our six mini-branches or two bookmobiles and book bike. We are YOUR public library. We are here to serve you. So think about it: What’s your library E? Let me know via our library website at rhpl.org/contact-us.

Local Partnerships

Rochester Avon Historical Society

The Rochester Historical Society presents programs centered around Rochester historical events on the first Thursday of every month in the library’s Multipurpose Room. The programs are listed at calendar.rhpl.org. For more information call 248-266-5440.

Scribes Writers’ Workshop

Second & Fourth Wednesdays 1–4 p.m.
Second Floor Conference Room
A twice monthly drop-in workshop for those who love to write, want to learn from more experienced writers, or just want to get their writing “juices” flowing. Members will write on a given topic or thought-starter, then give and take positive feedback. RHPL card holders have first priority but the workshop is open to others as well. For more information call 248-650-7124.
