Our School

Rochester High School first became a reality in 1916 when its framework, now the site of Central Junior High, was finally completed. After months of careful planning and construction, the new building stood ready to receive its first class. Completed for a cost of $29,933.30, one of the local papers heralded the new structure as "undoubtedly the finest school building in the state for the money expended." During its first year of use, Rochester High School employed 13 instructors to serve the total student enrollment numbering 525. Since its first yearbook The Vanguard, which was published in 1922, Rochester High School has undergone a great many changes. The present building, completed in 1955, accommodates more than 50 faculty members and 1200 students

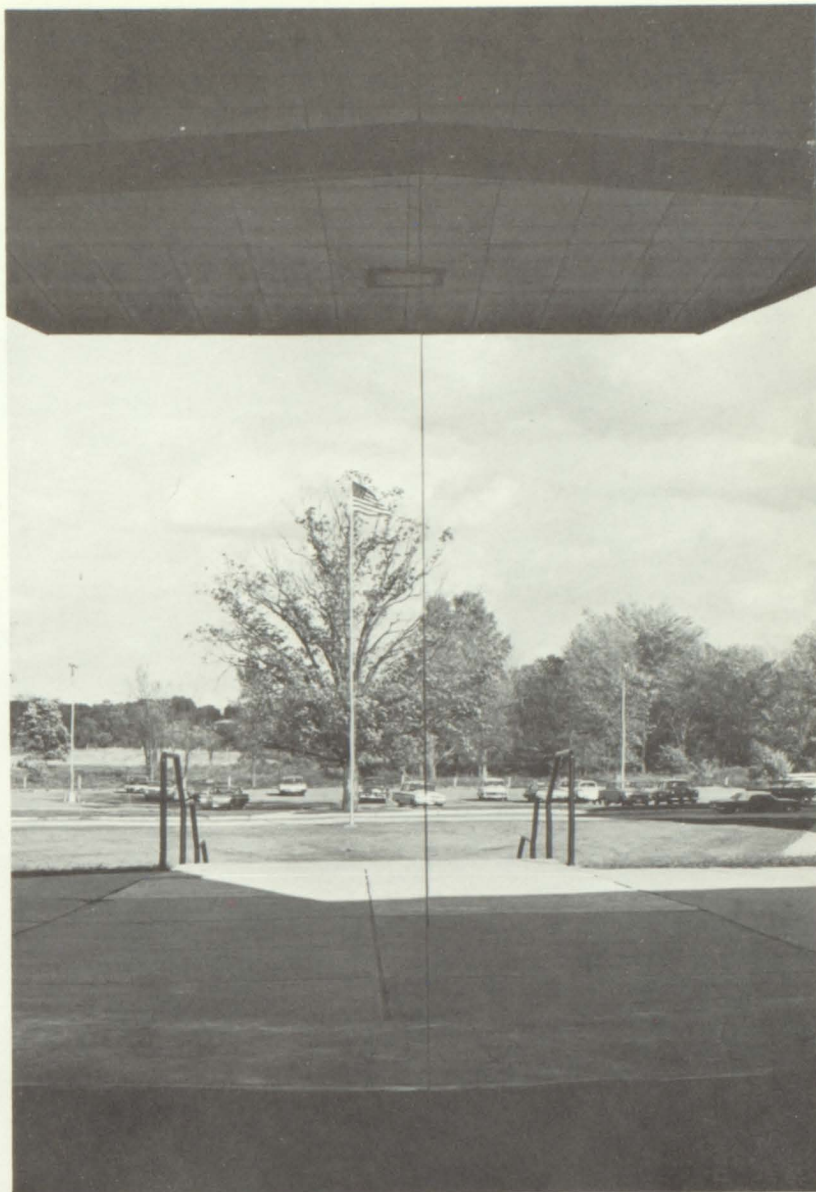

Within the framework of Rochester High School, lies the opportunity for knowledge and experience—the key to a better way of life.

Action begins here.....

WHO AM I?

I am the Building that houses the scholars, the educators, the future lawyers, doctors, and businessmen. I accept the responsibility of sheltering these students during their formative years. They come to me with the questions: Who am I? What will I be? Where am I going? Through my halls they pass daily into various fields of knowledge. Here, in my classrooms, many ideas stem into future ideals. Through the use of my books, equipment, and supplies, I have means of stimulating thought, wisdom, and adventure. From my extra - curricular activities, I offer many qualities unobtainable in a text. These, too, pour forth educational values. I do not represent all work and no play, for my halls ring with enjoyment and laughter. As the end of the day approaches, my halls are empty, the doors are closed. However, as Benjamin Franklin once said, "The doors of wisdom are never shut."

These windows focus the future.

Classrooms stimulate a search for knowledge.

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

1917-1963

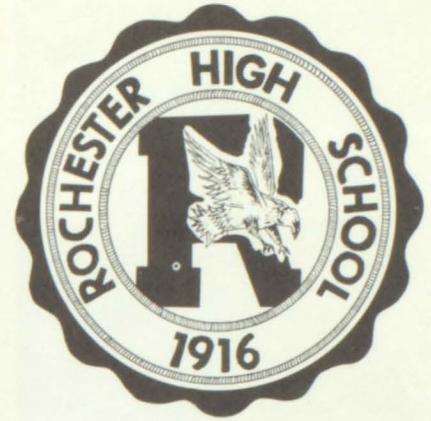

"And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country can do for you. Ask what you can do for your country ... With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's works must truly be our own."

From President Kennedy's Inaugural Address, January 20, 1961

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am the Educator--
the Mother of all professions.
I use my ability and experience to give guidance and counsel to those who come to me seeking knowledge. I work with eager, searching minds and strive to create wisdom from knowledge -- understanding from wisdom. My job is an important one--for "Education is an ornament in prosperity and a

Board of Education

The leadership of our administrators is of inestimable value. To them, the students of Rochester High School are indebted for an education which has opened to us the doors of opportunity, of employment, and of future education. We, the students, wish to express our gratitude for their guidance in preparing us for the future.

Welcome

The students and faculty of the Rochester High School have had the opportunity of seeing a new educator take over the important duties of superintendent of schools. This qualified man is Dr. William Early, former superintendent of schools in Fenton.

Born in Massachusetts, Dr. Early graduated from the Suffield Academy at Suffield, Connecticut, in 1940. His past teaching and administrative experiences add much to his position in Rochester. Dr. Early holds a Bachelor of Science degree in education, a Masters Degree in school administration, and a Doctor of Education degree. His career in education began in 1946 when, after graduating from the Suffield Academy, he became a teacher of social studies and English. Before moving to Fenton, he served as superintendent of schools in Deerfield, Michigan.

Possessing insight and keen sensitivity about school problems, Dr. Early is well-known for his ability to work successfully with schools and communities.

To Dr. Early, the entire student body and faculty of Rochester High School extend a sincere welcome.

Thank You

Wallace Hodges

Rochester students and faculty now pay tribute to Donald Baldwin, former Superintendent of Rochester Community Schools, and to Wallace Hodges, a veteran member of the Rochester Board of Education. Mr. Baldwin's thirteen years of dedication to the schools helped to promote the growing years of Rochester Community Schools. Among the objectives accomplished during this time were numerous improvements including enlargement of the Art department. Mr. Baldwin was also instrumental in the building of our present high school, McGregor and North Hill Elementary Schools, and West Junior High School. Mr. Hodges is a recipient of our gratitude for his nine years of membership on the school board. While serving in this capacity, he held the offices of treasurer and trustee. With the combined efforts of Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Hodges, our schools reflect the quality of leadership. Our appreciation is indeed extended for the rewarding works of these two men.

Donald Baldwin

I AM THE EDUCATOR - - -

I am the educator. I have obtained my knowledge from widespread colleges and universities. It is now my aim to educate and to enable the students of Rochester High School to continue their learning. In my role as an educator, I seek to be a visualizer of life and not a merchant of facts. I am proud to think that in helping to develop a student's knowledge, citizenship, and character I have provided him with power. For it has been said that knowledge is power to be used in regimenting the world for peace--and education alone can achieve this great and noble end.

With the increase of student enrollment, school personnel is confronted with many new and additional duties. Through many a trying and tiring day, we always find them cheerful, cooperative, and willing to assist any and all students in the innumerable tasks. These people are assisted by students who contribute their time in bookstore, library and offices.

At the conclusion of the 1963 football season, our Varsity Football Team completed a successful record of five wins and four losses. Backed by many spirited spectators, the Falcons displayed much action and skillful maneuvering on the field.

Our team and school proudly congratulate the outstanding players, Mike Konley, Carl Stefanski, and Roger Carpenter, who were chosen for the Oakland A All-Conference Team. Honorable Mention merit went to Roger Thompson and Tom Knust.

Hey, Bev, everybody's watching us!

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad of four seniors and two juniors and the Junior Varsity Squad of sophomore girls led Rochester fans in support of their football and basketball teams this season. The new year ushered into the cheerleaders a bright new enthusiasm to change the cheers and to arouse better school participation at games. The Varsity Cheerleaders' spirits soared when they received their new uniforms, white sweaters and pleated skirts with royal blue inserts. Both squads enlivened their cheers with flips, splits, and special jumps.

IN BASEBALL WE HIT HARD

Rochester's 1963 baseball teams made a good showing on the diamond. Coach Murray's varsity team captured second place in the Tri-County League with a record of five wins and three losses. They attained an overall season standing of five wins and seven losses.

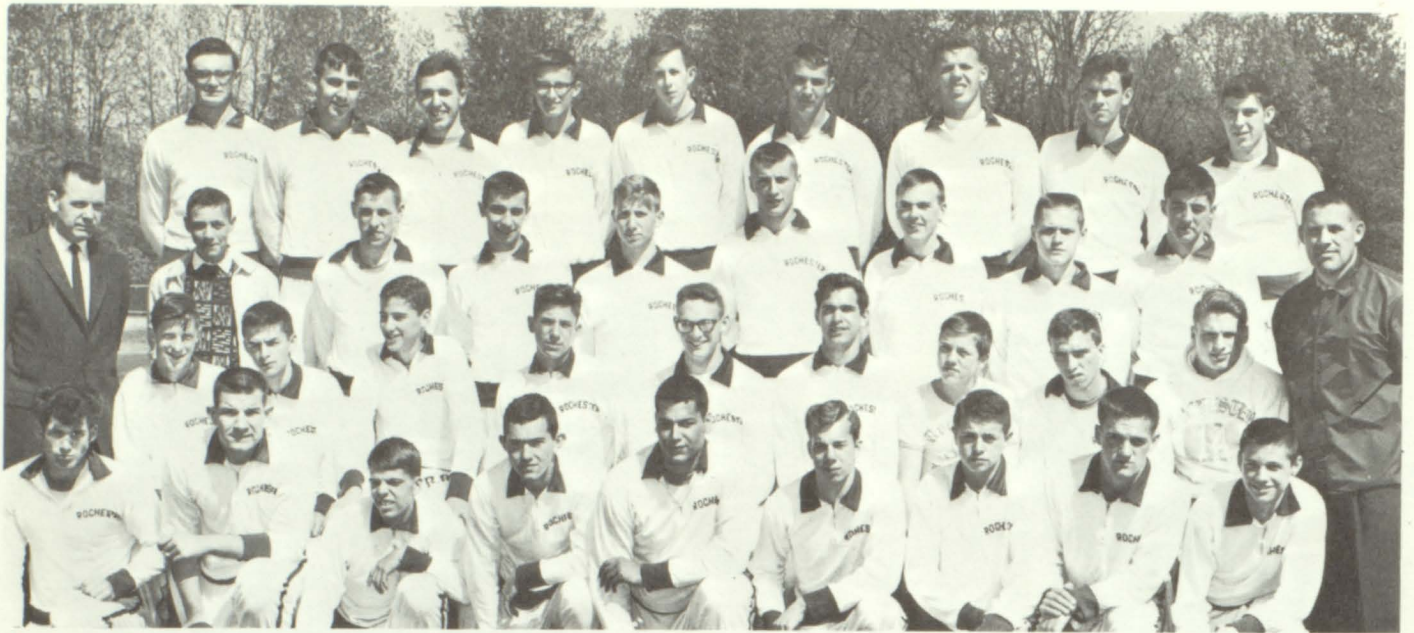

Although Coach Reynold's reserve squad's record showed one win and four losses at the start of the season, the team miraculously reversed its play and won the last four games producing a winning season.

Varsity

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Hartung, our 1963 Varsity golf team made a terrific showing. Besides capturing the Tri-County League championship, the Falcons placed second in the Class A regionals and in the annual Pontiac Press Tournament. The team, the first from Rochester to compete in a state tournament, then placed eighth out of all Michigan Class A high schools. Congratulations to these fine golfers for winning every match by an average of 37 points!

Varsity Basketball

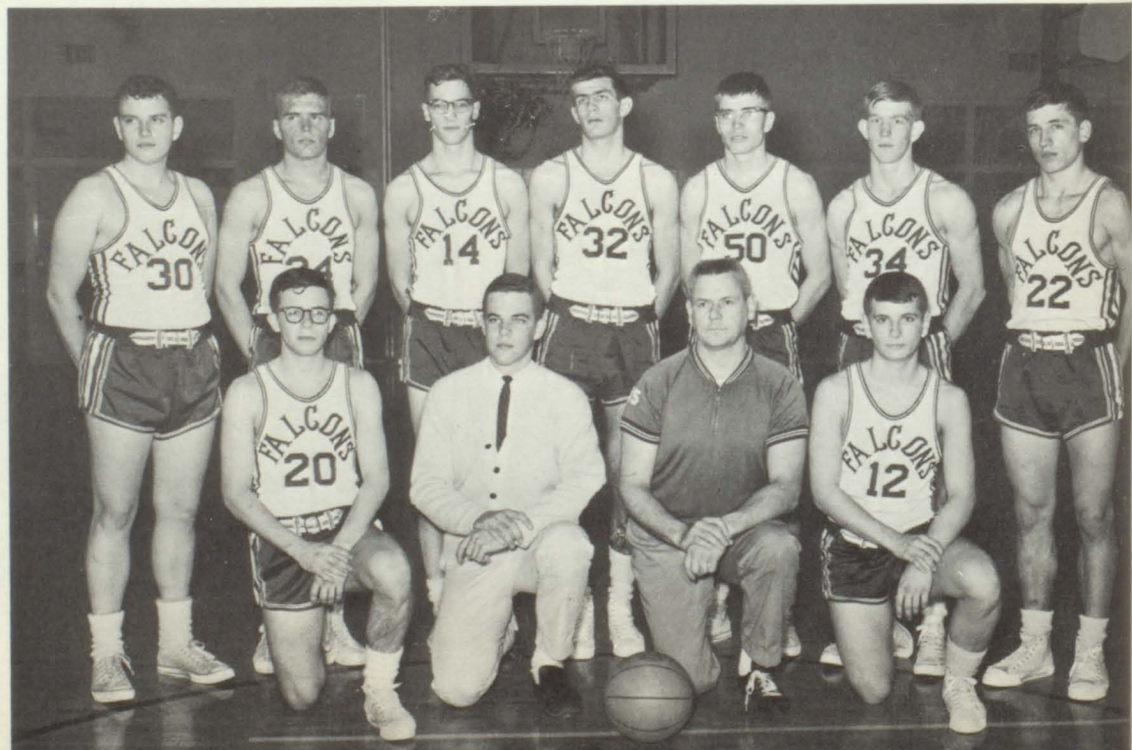

The Rochester High School Varsity basketball team made its first seasonal appearance in the Oakland "A" League. The team had a rather frustrating season with two wins and thirteen losses. In tournament competition, Rochester beat Utica by a score of 69-67 but lost its second game to Troy in overtime by 67-64. A promising season is expected for next year as the Falcons will have four starters returning to the line-up.

Senior Lettermen

Possibly one of the greatest awards that can be presented to senior boys is the letter they earn playing a favorite sport. Cooperation, team effort, and good sportsmanship, learned through this inter-play, have merited them distinction, recognition, and dignity. The boys' characters not only reflect on themselves but on their teachers and school as well. Proudly, then, they wear this well-earned symbol of success.

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am a Sophomore. What does the future hold for me . . . Where will I find my place in the "world of work" . . . Shall I be a biologist, a businessman, a teacher . . .

Education, the key to all professions, will help me select my field. Basic courses are offered me this year which will aid me in deciding my true place in the world.

Who Am I? I am a Sophomore completing my first year at Rochester High School--a sensational year, filled with many new and exciting experiences. I designed and decorated a float for the annual Homecoming parade. The glowing flames from my festive bonfire sparked the enthusiasm of the entire Homecoming crowd. During the year, I helped to sponsor some of the many after-game dances. This spring, from an enrollment of 382 sophomores, I helped elect the officers to serve my class throughout our junior year.

As I approach the last two years of my high school education, I realize that if I am to be successful, I must decide where I am going and start now. I shall dedicate myself to a purposeful goal and realize that the mould of my fortune is in my own hands.

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am the future teacher, conservationist, nurse or business leader. I broaden my interests and receive my training from membership in clubs. Through cooperation and discussion, I hope to attain my future goal of working ably and efficiently with others. Self-expression in group discussions provides me with the means for developing and strengthening my own character, while striving to better discover and understand the characters of others. By participation in a school organization, I can achieve my objective of personal enjoyment while serving the school and student body. I shall then be better prepared for a successful career, for the vocation of every man and woman is to serve the people.

To preserve and defend the natural resources of our country is the noteworthy objective of the Conservation Club. Through their activities, including restoration of birdhouses, these students help to create an interest in preserving our natural resources. Climaxing the year's activities, the Conservation Club members are looking forward to a canoe trip. This club is very vital in helping keep America beautiful.

Varsity Club

Boys who have earned a Varsity letter are eligible for membership in the Varsity Club. This year members, were busy sponsoring the basketball game between the Harlem Diplomats and the R. H. S. faculty. Besides matching skill with members of the Key Club in "Basketball in the Dark," Club members participated in the American Field Service-sponsored basketball game held against the Harlem Ambassadors.

The Literary Club, an informal discussion group, is open to all students who are interested in reading, discussing, and learning the culture and finer points of great literature. At their meetings, members have discussed and explored many interesting books, including, A Farewell To Arms, Travels With Charlie, and Caine Mutiny. The group has also enjoyed field trips to symphonies and art museums. Particularly delightful was their excursion to the movie, Anthony and Cleopatra and to the Fisher Theater where they viewed The Sound of Music.

Art Club

An interest in art and a little creativity are all you need for membership in the Art Club. Each year Art Club members prepare an entry for float competition, in the Homecoming parade. Using color and imagination, they also create posters for various occasions and to advertise local functions. One of the year's most interesting and enjoyable activities was a field trip to Wayne State University. There the students viewed fascinating displays of interior design, sculpture and graphic arts, explored the main gallery, and received information on the field of art education.

Jet Club

The Junior Engineering Technical Society is a national organization for students who wish to further their knowledge in the engineering field. Projects pertaining to the vocation as well as informative trips, furnish the background for the Club's activities. By measuring the engineering potential of its members, the Jet Club helps prepare them for a specialized engineering vocation.

F. T. A.

The Future Teachers of America is designed to benefit students who are planning a career in teaching. Each year, in order to better acquaint them with the teaching profession, the club members make several visits to colleges. There they receive valuable experience by participating in a program of cadet teaching. Another enjoyable project which has become an annual activity for FTA members is decorating a car for the Homecoming Parade.

F.H.A.

Future Homemakers of America uphold and promote these worthy objectives. Girls who have had or are taking home economics are eligible for membership. This year, the club invited interior decorators, nurses, and Consumer's Power representatives from the home economics division to speak at its meetings. To raise money for the Club, the girls also shined shoes and held a candied apple sale. Organized to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking, to encourage democracy in home economics, and to provide wholesome individual and group recreation, these girls are enjoying their membership in F.H.A.

Key Club

The Key Club, which is sponsored by the Rochester Kiwanis Club, was quite active this year. The club assists the Kiwanians in many of their annual services and activities in our community, including: the Children's Field Day, the Flare Sale, and the Peanut Sale. This year the Club sponsored the "Basketball Game in the Dark" and entered two cars in the Homecoming Parade competition. Three of this year's members represented Rochester at the annual Key Club Convention in Grand Rapids.

Service Club

Girls willing to devote time and effort to their school are welcome to membership in the Service Club. The purpose of this organization is to lend the services of its members to the school in any way, such as selling or serving refreshments at dances, distributing programs at football games and musical concerts, and cleaning up after conferences or other school functions. This year, as the Club's annual money-making project, the girls sponsored a bake sale. Profits from the sale were to purchase Christmas gifts for patients in the Lapeer Training School.

Science Club

As a member of the Science Club, a student has a chance to broaden his background of knowledge in the field of science. These students have the opportunity to work on projects, including an entry for the spring science fair.

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am a Junior. It is with pride and a sense of accomplishment that I return to my alma mater. My interest in a vocation has developed to an inquisitive stage. My wonderment of what the world has to offer has been substituted by a basic knowledge of that profession. With a background of general studies behind me, this is my year of decision.

I AM THE JUNIOR

Who Am I? I am a Junior - a student between and in the midst of all. As a Junior, I am allotted certain privileges, including the J-Hop and receiving my class ring. This year, for the first time, I participated in a girl's football game-"The Little Rosebowl," surely to become a tradition--and won. In the spring of this year, I helped elect the officers who will guide my class through its last year at Rochester High School.

Here, in the middle of my journey through the high school years, I can see clearly the problems and pleasures ahead. As a Junior, I stop here only for a little while before approaching the final step in my educational career. I must plan my vocation now and remember that it is more important to know where I am going than to see how fast I can get there.

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am the student combining a school's many social activities with the scholastic side of my education. In striving to obtain a well-rounded education, I allow a part of my time to recreation. From participating in a school dance or play, I seek the relaxation and diversity necessary to create a life balanced in work and play. Whether in the spirited voices at a football game or within the quiet atmosphere of an informal gathering, I share a common friendship with my fellow students. It is by discovering them that I discover myself and realize that good company and good discourse are the very sinews of life.

I AM THE SPECTATOR

Foreign Exchange

Girmay Tedla

Girmay Tedla, our American Field Service exchange student from abroad, has received a warm welcome from the student body since his arrival at our school.

Girmay, a 19-year-old senior, is one of seven children and lives in Asmara in northern Ethiopia. Upon leaving Ethiopia last summer, he flew to this country and arrived in New York on August 18. For the past year, he has been making his home in Rochester with the Kenneth Roose family.

Since attending R. H. S., Girmay has studied U.S. History, government, English, algebra, and economics. He has served on the Student Council, and the yearbook photography staff and is an honorary member of the National Honor Society. An enthusiastic member of this year's cross-country team, Girmay has set outstanding records and achieved personal recognition for his prowess in this sport.

One of our school's activities that greatly surprised Girmay is the enthusiastic cheering in class competition for the Spirit Jug.

In the future, Girmay plans to attend college in Ethiopia. We echo his wish for a return visit to America and a future chance to renew the many friendships he has made at R. H. S.

Katie Allan

Christmas eve, 1962 proved to be an exciting occasion for Katie Allan. She received a letter from the Youth For Understanding Program saying that she had been chosen to spend her next summer as an exchange student in Germany.

After many months of preparation, June 24, arrived and Katie boarded the plane for Europe along with 100 other students. She visited Gauder, Newfoundland and Shannon, Ireland before arriving in Amsterdam, Holland. There she spent three days sightseeing and preparing for her train trip to Niederau Duren, Germany. Upon arriving in Duren, Katie was greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Seide and their four children: Ulf, 20; Arnol, 18; and the twins, Hiltrun and Gudrun, 16.

The Seides were a middle class German family. Herr and Frau Seide both worked, and Katie often helped with the household chores. For three weeks she attended a Catholic school with her sisters and studied German, English, French, and mathematics.

After the close of school, Hiltrun and Gudrun left on a bicycle trip. Katie then spent most of her time with her "adopted" father, who conducted tours through Europe to maintain the family automobile. Accompanying him, when there was room, Katie was fortunate to visit Spain, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Luxemburg, Holland, and Austria.

When the time finally came for Katie's departure, she left Germany with many fond memories and a better understanding of our European neighbors.

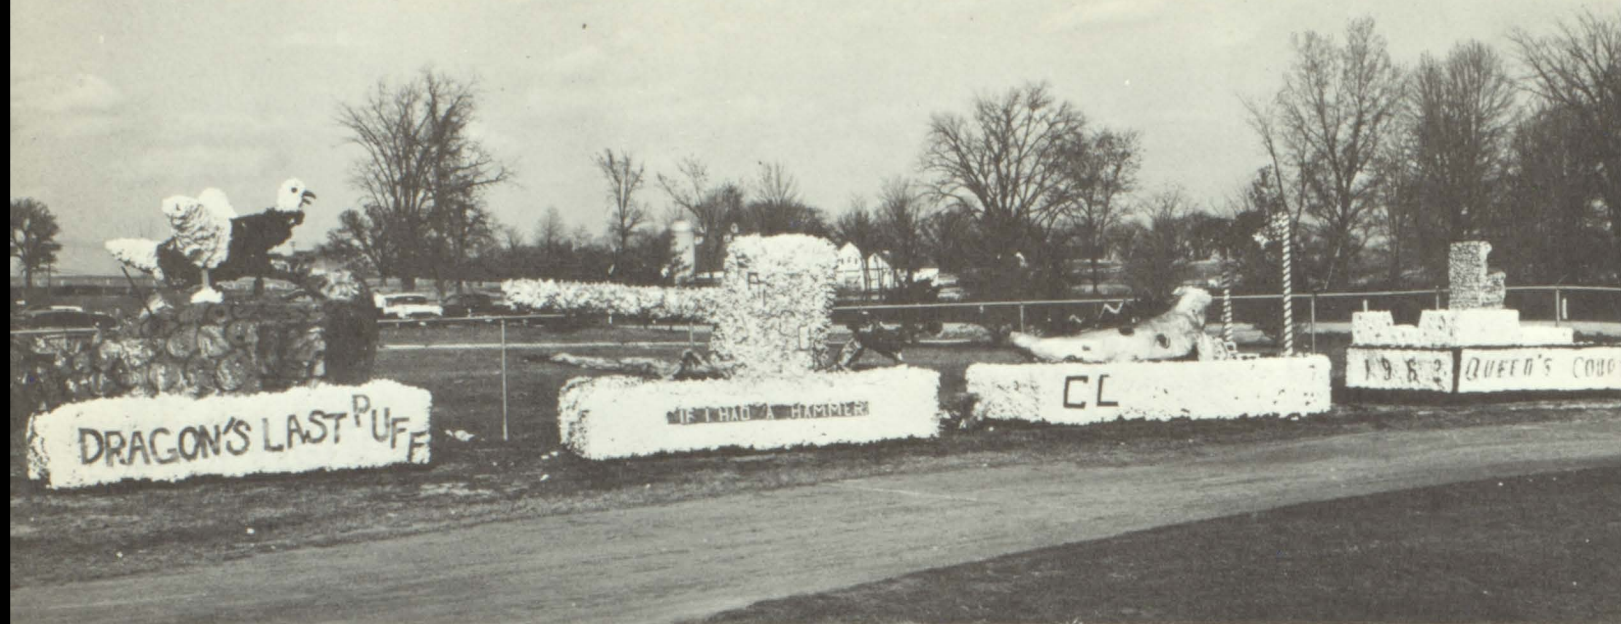

Kathy Stoutenburg

As a 1963 American Field Service exchange student, Kathy Stoutenburg enjoyed a three-month summer trip to Austria. After leaving the states aboard the ship M. S. Seven Seas, Kathy arrived in Rotterdam, Holland, on July 5. She then traveled to Vienna, Austria, and her new home with Dr. and Mrs. Robert Seitschek. Kathy's Austrian sisters, Jutta and Ulli, and her Austrian brother, Werner, took her swimming and pointed out many famous monuments while on a sightseeing tour of Vienna.

After a month with the Seitscheks, Kathy traveled on to Innsbruck, where she lived with a second family, Dr. and Mrs. Josef Pecho and their daughter, Brigitte. Here, Kathy went hiking and viewed the elaborate site of the winter olympics. Before her departure, she visited many places in Austria and traveled to Munich.

Since her return, Kathy has shared with the student body and organizations the many memorable experiences of an unforgettable summer.

Homecoming 1963

The annual Homecoming assembly marked the start of the day's festivities with a flourish of school spirit. The class skits were loud and lively, depicting the calm assurance of the Falcons in their victory over the Lake Orion Dragons. The class of 1964 captured first place and a trophy in skit competition, becoming the first R.H.S. class ever to take top honors for three consecutive years. The junior class then boasted a first place victory in competition for the Spirit Jug. Following the assembly, each class lined up behind its float in preparation for the parade. Led by the band, the festive floats and colorfully decorated cars made a lively procession through town. The senior class was later overjoyed to learn that the judges awarded first place honors to its entry in the float competition.

Our 1963 Homecoming Queen

With October 25 came Homecoming, one of the most memorable events of the year. The weather being in our favor, the nighttime festivities began with the traditional bonfire. Blue and white helium balloons then filled the air, as the kick-off triggered the eventful game between Rochester and Lake Orion. The highlight of the evening came during half-time exercises when Sandy Rudd was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1963. The Falcons then supplied the finishing touch to a perfect Homecoming, when they scored a decisive 13-7 victory over the Lake Orion Dragons.

Homecoming Dance

Climaxing the week's activities was the annual Homecoming dance on October 26th. The dance, sponsored by the Student Council, featured disc jockey Dave Liggett and folksingers Danny Terry and Brownie McGee, just back from a world tour. Highlighting the evening, was the presentation of Queen Sandy and her court, who were honored by leading the dance which immediately followed their introduction.

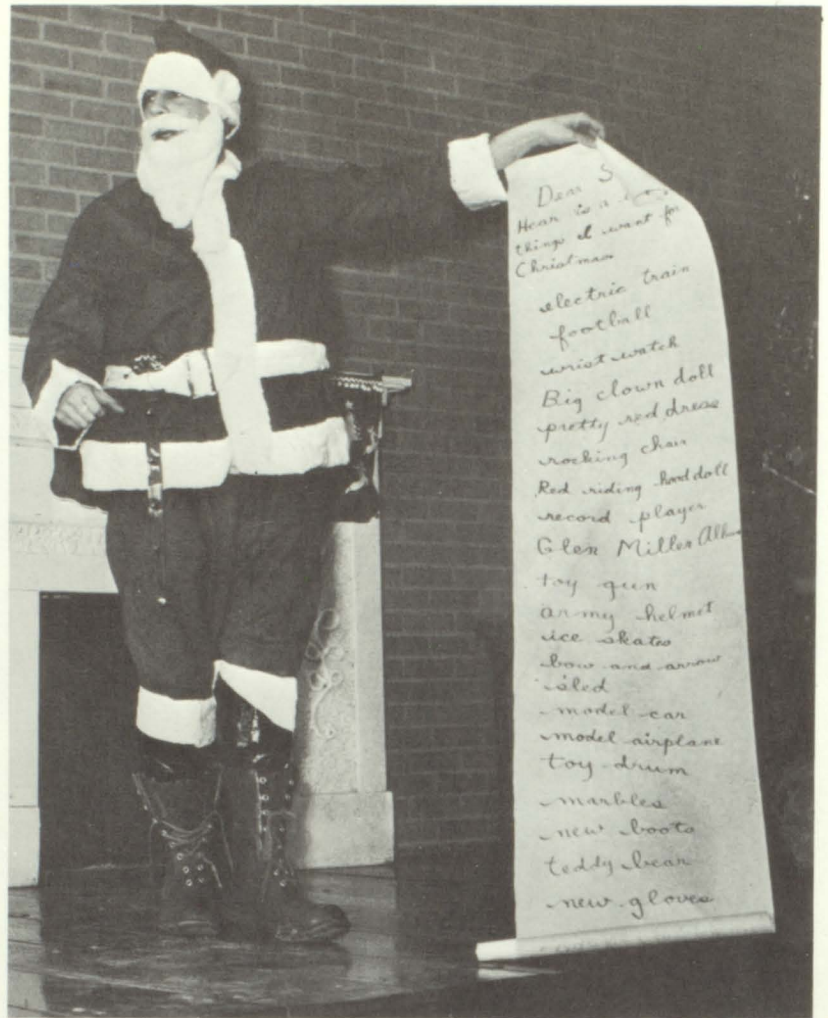

Queen Sandy smiles radiantly from her throne.

It's Christmas Time

With the arrival of the Yuletide season, comes joyous spirits for Rochester High School students. An air of gaiety pervaded the halls, and to welcome the vacation, members of Miss Tallant's speech classes, assisted by the band and the choir, presented the annual Christmas assembly. Portraying the lighter side of the Christmas season, one skit enacted a typical Christmas scene with the arrival of Saint Nick. The assembly of the students afforded the background for musical selections by the choir and band. To conclude the assembly, the final scene reenacted the birth of Christ. The assembly provided everyone with joyous Christmas spirit which rang through the halls as the students left for a well-earned vacation. A castle, candy canes, and Christmas centerpieces created a vision of yuletide fantasy at this year's annual Christmas dance. Holiday decorations created the atmosphere for "Toyland," the theme chosen for the evening. Sponsored by the Student Council, the dance featured Dave Liggett, D.J. for WPON. The records spun, and Christmas spirits rose as the dancers greeted the holiday season.

Letters, I get letters...

Kathy rolled so hard that she laughed on the floor.

Slave Day

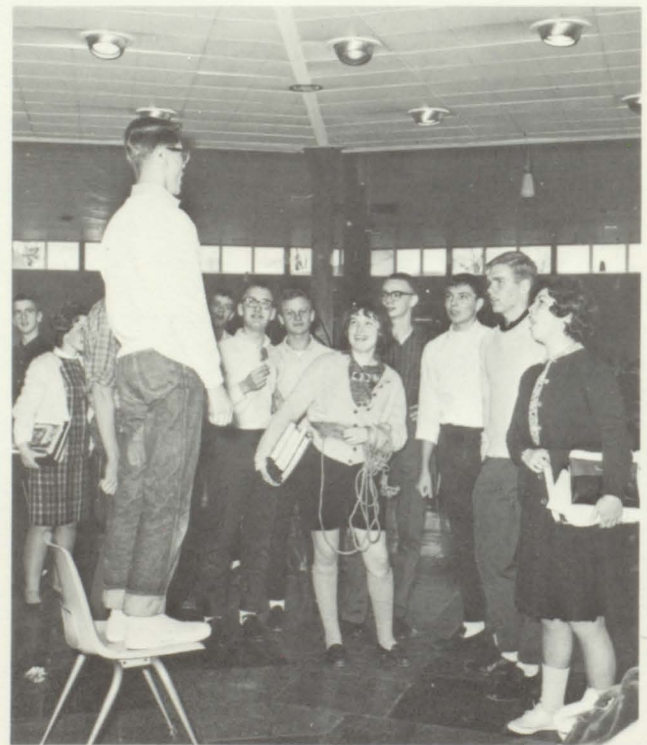

The whimsical Slave Day was sponsored by the Student Council American Field Service Committee. Proceeds from this activity will go toward bringing foreign exchange students to R.H.S.

We All Had Fun In Dog Patch At The Sadie Hawkins Dance

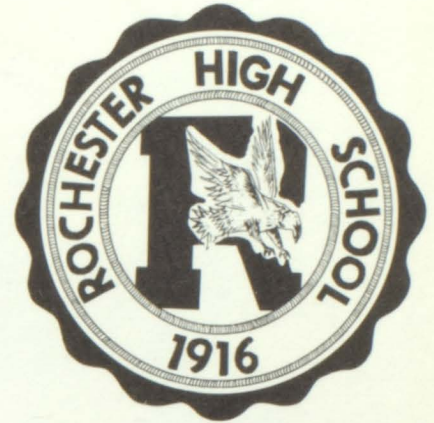

Informality was the mode of dress for the Sadie Hawkins dance, October 18th, as students portrayed the different characters of Dogpatch. The Kissing Booth and Costume Contest, were popular traditional features. Most of the participants found the floor more comfortable than any of the chairs and, consequently, spent the bulk of their time seated on it. It was a very profitable and successful dance for the Conservation Club.

Cut it out Bruce! You'll wreck Jim's ONLY jersey.

WHO AM I?

Who am I? I am a Senior about to take my place in the adult world. As I leave the halls of my Alma Mater, I face a future that offers opportunity for success in further education and future employment. It is with a sense of fear, anticipation, and accomplishment that I close these doors of the past to step into a new life. As the future unfolds, what will it hold for me . . . Where am I heading . . . What am I going to be . . . Who am I . . .

I AM THE SENIOR

Seated: Carol Anderson, Secretary
 Bettie Cleghorn, Treasurer
 Standing: Kirk Roose, President
 Mr. Lawson, Sponsor

Who am I? I am a senior thoughtfully approaching the completion of my high school years. Now, as I am about to graduate, I stop a moment to reflect upon the events of the past year. In the spring of 1963, I elected the officers who led me through many thrilling adventures. With the theme, "If I Had A Hammer," my float won first place in the Homecoming celebration. I also won the skit trophy for the third consecutive year. In February, I had great fun in producing the play "Cheaper By The Dozen" which turned out to be a great success. To top off the year, I was captivated by the Senior Prom. Having given education, knowledge, and direction to my life, my high school years are now complete.

Leaving the doors of the past, I turn my thoughts to the future and its many new adventures. I shall strive to find my true place in the world.

Senior Play

One of the finest senior play productions and a true highlight of this year's activities was the Class of 1964's memorable presentation of Cheaper By The Dozen. The play focused upon the frustrating but fascinating life of the family of the late Frank Gilbreth, an expert in the field of motion study. With plenty of humor as well as warmly touching scenes, the actors revived memories of the Roaring Twenties as they captivated their full-house audiences. Congratulations to the all-star cast, directors, and all who made Cheaper By The Dozen a truly excellent production and a tremendous success.

Oh, Jon! My fingernail polish wasn't dry yet!

National Honor Society

Each year, outstanding students are initiated into the National Honor Society. Maintaining a "B" average in scholarship and citizenship are selected on the basis of leadership, character, and service to the school. The Honor Society, a working organization, sponsors the annual Honors Assembly and the Honors Tea, to which all prospective members are invited, and also participates in the Honors' Convocation in June. To this group, go the student body's recognition and congratulations.

The highest scholastic honor that is bestowed upon a graduating senior is that of Valedictorian. This year, this distinction goes to Kirk Roose, who maintained the most nearly perfect average in the Class of 1964.

Also deserving recognition and distinction is the senior ranking second in the class. Congratulations for this honor go to Ted Schroll, this year's Salutatorian, whose scholastic average was very near that of the Valedictorian.

To the above staff, I wish to extend my whole-hearted thanks and appreciation for their many hours of assistance in making this book possible. To Paula Collins for her many hours of writing to make the literary part of our book a success; to Nancy Bennert for the cover, and furnishing to our school its first seal; to Betty Hogan for her fine work as photography editor and to Sue Smith, assistant editor for helping me meet those many deadlines. Without Barbara Mull this book would never have been possible, since she has made it a financial success. All materials in this book have been typed by Karen Roettger and her staff. Her excellent typing and willingness to give many hours of her valuable time have placed the final touches to our book. In addition to the staff, I wish to express my thanks to the faculty. Their cooperation and willingness to help us meet our deadlines is greatly appreciated.
