Forward

The Falcon is a noble warrior. With wings outspread, he stands guard over his domain. When his piercing eyes perceive danger to his conquered territory, he challenges the opposition to the championship he has achieved. From his prevalent success, he gains the strength to fight to victory. He is strong and undefeatable. He remains the champion; he remains ruler of the domain he has achieved.

At Rochester High School, the Falcon typifies the spirit of each student. When a student has gained success, he stands alert to protect his achievements. He fights any challenge to the championship he has won, to the distinction he has earned. A student at Rochester High School stands strong on the success of his achievements.

Rochester Senior High School

In the fall of 1956, Rochester High School opened its doors to the students for the first time. Beautiful in design, the new school provided equipment for a thorough secondary education. A two story wing completed in 1963 on the north-west corner of the building added laboratories for biology, physics, and foreign languages, and increased the math and English classrooms.

In 1965, art rooms and a sewing room were added to the south-west end of the building and the speech, vocal music, and instrumental music departments received special facilities in an extension of the north-east wing.

In the Senior High School building, the Rochester Community has provided the students with the foundation of an excellent education.

Faculty

Farewell

Mr. Jay Eldred, assistant principal of Rochester High School for seven years, left this summer to become superintendent of Yale, Michigan, schools. Before becoming assistant principal, he taught English at Central Junior High. Public minded, he served on the village council.

Mr. Eldred solved day to day problems and made Rochester a better high school. We thank him for the help he has given us in our pursuit of success.

and Thank-you

Dr. Robert Chandler and Mr. Henry Purdy have retired from the Board of Education.

Dr. Chandler, who received his B. S. and M. S. from Southern Illinois and his Ph. D. from Purdue University, has served on the Board of Education for four years. During this time, he worked on a study committee which resulted in the construction of West Junior High School.

Mr. Purdy, who is a graduate from Ferris State University, has served on the Board of Education for ten years. During this time, he has served as trustee, secretary, president, and treasurer. While he was on the board, the school system constructed West Junior High School, Howard McGregor School, Meadowbrook School, built additions on Woodward School, Brookland, North Hill School, Hamlin School, and remodeled Central Junior High School and the Board of Education Building.

Last May, these men were honored at dinner presented by the teachers of the Rochester Schools for their services to the community.

Rochester High School wants to extend its deep appreciation for everything that Dr. Chandler and Mr. Purdy have done during their terms on the school board.

Board of Education

The hard working board determines school policy.

James Ludwick
President

We, the staff of the R. H. S. Falcon, wish to express our deepest thanks to the members of the Board of Education. Because of their devoted services, our school system has been a system to be proud of. Because of their fervent work, Rochester High has been a school better equipped to teach her students. Again may we relate our appreciation to those whom we shall ever be indebted.

Harlan Johnson

Mr. Harlan Johnson completes his sixteenth year as principal of Rochester High School. Through the years, his understanding consideration of students have led them to successful lives. As students, we regard him with respect and appreciation for the contribution he has made to the success of our high school years.

Ralph Hawes

Mr. Ralph L. Hawes began his first year as assistant principal at Rochester High School in August, 1965.

He received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from Wayne State University. For the last eleven years, he has taught at various elementary and junior high schools in the Detroit School Systems. Prior to coming to Rochester, Mr. Hawes headed the Social Studies Department at Frank Murphy Junior High School in northwestern Detroit.

With his understanding of teen-agers and enjoyment in working with students, Mr. Hawes contributes to the success of Rochester High School. The students extend to him a sincere welcome.

George Stringer

Mr. George Stringer heads the high school counseling department and is coordinator of counselors between junior and senior high schools.

Mr. Stringer received his B. A. from Battle Creek, graduating as president of his senior class. He then received his M. A. from Michigan State University.

Mr. Stringer has served in Rochester High School for 21 years, as counselor, social studies teacher, and social living instructor. His present position involves informing parents and students of the curriculum, coordinating actions of the counselors and controlling the scheduling of the new R. H. S. students. In addition to this, he heads our summer school this year for the first time.

Achievement is success, and without the help of the faculty, the students of Rochester High School would have achieved little. To these educators, we extend our sincerest appreciation for the major role they have played in our education.

To the personnel of R. H. S. may we express our gratitude for their diligent service throughout the past year. To the cooks who have prepared our fine meals, may we say a hearty Thank you. To our faithful and friendly custodians who have kept our school in well swept order, we wish to acknowledge your hard work through our deep appreciation. To the office workers that keep our every school day in order, we express our thanks for the well planned organization, that has kept our school in running order. To all of these individuals contributing to our education, but so often taken for granted, may we take this opportunity to express our deepest gratitude.

Concerts and assemblies occupy the Rochester High School Concert Choir. Joining with the Treble Choir, the Concert Choir presented the annual Christmas Concert and Winter Concert. The choir participated in the yearly Spring Sing, a festival involving every music class and choir in the school system.

The choir performed at the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies.

Each year, the choir sponsors an exchange program with another High School. The visiting school presents an assembly for Rochester and hosts the choir on a return visit.

Director, Frank Irish, teaches music theory and appreciation. He leads the group in a variety of songs ranging from a Hebrew chant to selections from West Side Story. For any student who likes music, choir is enjoyable and rewarding.

Students Exchange

American Understanding

The Youth for Understanding exchange program is an organization whose purpose it is to develop an understanding between Michigan students and families of other countries. The organization feels that the students come back with a better understanding of themselves and the countries in which they have been living. The students participating in 1965 were:

Cynthia Brown, Sweden
Michael Cox, Denmark
Claudia Gilmore, Germany
Carolyn Gullen, Germany
Joan Kemler, Germany
Angelynn Munn, Holland
Marti Ayres, Mexico
Trisch Early, Michigan Chorale
Tom Jacobsen, Michigan Chorale

Girls' State

and

Boys' State Train Leaders.

At Wolverine Girls' State and Wolverine Boys' State, high school girls and boys learn the government and politics of Michigan by organizing a mock state. The girls and boys fill offices at every level of government, from city drain commissioner to governor. The "citizens" of each state learn the importance of politics by organizing into parties and holding conventions to nominate candidates for state offices.

Sports, recreation, parties, and talent shows add to the relaxed atmosphere of the government workshop.

Sponsored by the American Legion, Boys' State runs for a week on the Michigan State University campus and involves boys who have finished their junior years.

For junior girls, the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors the week-long Girls' State on the University of Michigan campus.

Kathy Morgan, as one of two "senators" from Wolverine Girls' State, represented Michigan at Girls' Nation in Washington D. C. At Girls' Nation, girls learned about the national government by running a mock country and observing government officials at work.

The class of 1968 united as sophomores to elect officers and a class council. Homecoming was the sophomore's first project. For the skit competition, the class presented a variation of the Wizard of Oz. The class constructed a float based on the theme, The Enemy Below. Aftergame dances during basketball and football seasons occupied the class. At Falcon Day, the sophomores competed with the juniors and seniors in field day events.

Junior Class Officers

Junior Council started out the 1965-66 Falcon year by taking part in the Homecoming festivities with its "From Rochester With Love" float. As autumn brought the football season and basketball came with winter, the Juniors sponsored a number of very successful after-game dances. The beautiful J-Hop, "Lollipops and Roses" high-lighted the green-and-white year. Altogether, this has been a very important and satisfactory year for the spirit of the Junior class.

Senior Class Officers

The class of 1966, unconquerable in spirit, swept three firsts at Homecoming. For the ninth straight pep assembly, the class won the spirit jug. With "Coltfinger," the seniors won the best skit trophy for their second time. The senior float, "Colt in a Cage," received first prize. The class sponsored a paper drive and served several aftergame dances. In the powderpuff football game, the senior girls trounced the junior girls. March 31 and April 1, the seniors presented The Man Who Came to Dinner.

At an Honor Assembly, each department presented an award to its best student. Later, the Honors Convocation honored seniors who had received awards and scholarships. Culminating three years of high school, the seniors participated in the senior banquet, baccalaureate, and finally, commencement.

Entering as a sophomore, Debbie was president of the National Honor Society in her senior year. Debbie worked on the literary staff of the yearbook. For the senior play Debbie served as publicity chairman while also filling a role. Debbie enters Michigan State in the fall.

Salutatorian

THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER

The Man Who Came to Dinner, produced by the senior class, played successfully to full houses March 31 and April 2. The three-act comedy was written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman.

Sheridan Whiteside, noted lecturer and radio wit, breaks his leg while coming to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley. During his convalescence, the arrogant Whiteside takes over the Stanley's household. He encourages the daughter, June, to elope with her boyfriend, and urges the son, Richard, to leave home in pursuit of his career. The household staff become enchanted by him and rush to serve his every whim.

As news of his injury spreads, his international set of friends flocks to see him, creating chaos in the house.

Throughout the play, Whiteside is puzzled by the mysteriousness of Harriet Stanley, a "wraith-like lady who more or less floats." As the problems of the play are resolved, Whiteside prepares to walk out. He slips and is carried back into the house, yelling in pain from a broken leg.

"He's coming out! Mr. Whiteside's coming out!"

With cleared hurdles and long jumps, a track team wins.

The track team, under the coaching of Mr. Robert Jereau, spent many hours practicing and trying to improve their speed and skill. A few records were broken during the season including the 880 yard relay.

A Fast Start,

Success in cross country begins with a fast start and ends with the victorious final sprint. Requiring endurance and conditioning, cross country is a sport for the rugged individual.

Bob Mills achieved the best time for a senior with 11:51 for two miles. The fastest time for a junior was Dave Bechen's 11:27. Joe Mouthaan ran the best sophomore time of 12:32.

With a flying leap, John Early hurdles to success.

Rick Jarvis comes in for a landing.

Running a corner, Dave Bechen heads toward success.

Coach Case and the team plan winning strategy.

and Tagging Runners

By hitting runs, catching flies, pitching fastballs, and tagging runners, a baseball team wins.

Rochester's 1965 Varsity Baseball Team, with a winning season, placed third in the league. The team achieved an 8-5 league record and an 8-9 over all record.

When players combine good serves with fast returns, the team succeeds.

The 1965 Varsity Tennis team, in its second year of competition, again had a winning season. Under the leadership of coach Al Barkley, the team posted a 9-3 record, including two narrow losses to powerful Bloomfield Hills.

The team faced stiff competition at the Cranbrook campus, where they participated in the Regional Tournament. Their showing was somewhat bleak, despite the fine play of Rick Watson, who went undefeated during the regular season. With most lettermen returning again this year, the 1966 team promises to be strong.

Long Drives Down the Middle of the Fairway and Long drives down the middle of the fairway and accurate putts on the green contribute to success on the golf course.

For the eight members of the 1965 Varsity Golf Team, successful playing achieved victory in 13 matches. The golfers bowed only twice to defeat, beating one team in a return match. In the Class "A" Regional Golf match, Rochester finished seventh in competition with twenty other schools.

With completed passes, successful plays, and first downs, a football team succeeds.

Finishing fourth in the Oakland "A" League, co-captains Dan Billo and Larry Shaver led the Falcons to achieve a 3-3-1 league record and an overall season record of 4-4-1.

The Falcons opened the season with a loss to Utica and bowed to the next three teams, Madison, Fitzgerald, and Clawson. With a victory over Lake Orion, Rochester entered a five game winning streak. The Falcons whipped Troy, tied Avondale, and swept Warren Cousino. The Falcons ended the season with a rout over Clarkston.

In Coach Konley's estimation, the Falcons succeeded in becoming the best team in several seasons.

Paul Becker and Dan Wheeler co-captained the Junior Varsity Football team into a successful winning season with a 5-1-1 league record and a 5-2-1 season record. The team opened the season with an initial loss but took strong shape by the end of the season to win the last four games. The team won their second game, tied one, and lost one before beginning their winning streak.

With exceptional success as reserves, the team averages 26 points a game. The 1965 season saw a strong personal achievement with Dave Marr at half-back, scoring 14 touchdowns.

Daily practice gave the J. V. 's a winning season.

The junior varsity squad, consisting of six sophomores, led Rochester fans in support of their J. V. football and basketball teams this season.

They have acted as "ambassadors of good will" to our opponents. They have also aided in building team spirit at the many pep assemblies.

Practice after school has taken much time and effort on the part of the sponsor and all members of the cheerleading squad.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team for 1965-66 year was one of the best teams Rochester has had in many years. They enjoyed a very successful year with a won-lost record of 13-3. Spear headed by their captains, Mike Aldrich, guard, and Mike Phillips, center, the team worked well together and, though lacking height and outstanding individual members, triumphed over many larger teams. Under the direction of their coach, Mr. Murray, the team showed sportsmanship and ability.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad is selected on their abilities to perform such feats as roundoffs, splits, and cart-wheels as well as having pep and spirit to cheer the team to victory. Not only are these six girls kept in excellent physical condition due to weekly practices and games, but they must maintain a C+ average or better in conduct and academics.

The Falcon team this year, under the direction of Mr. Wayne Case, was determined to have a winning season after they were defeated in their first three games against Warren Cousino, Madison, and Warren Fitzgerald. Just before the Christmas holidays, the Falcons bombed Clawson, 72-46, for their first victory.

The team returned optimistically, looking forward to the remainder of the season. The Falcons defeated Lake Orion for their second straight victory. The following night, the team continued their winning ways by defeating Romeo. Troy was Rochester's next victim, falling 65-48. The victory against Avondale was the team's fourth in seven days, and it proved to be their fifth straight victory. The previously undefeated Warren Cousino fell to Rochester for a 76-68 victory. The team was defeated in their next two games against Madison and Warren Fitzgerald. Victory came to the Falcons in their games against Clawson and Lake Orion, defeating Lake Orion in overtime. The Falcons extended their final winning streak to five games by defeating Troy, Avondale, and Romeo in the last three games of the regular season. The team finished in third place with an overall record of 11-5.

In tournament play, the team defeated Lapeer in their first district game. Rochester then played Utica and defeated them, 66-52, winning the district championship. The Falcons then moved onto East Detroit for regional play, losing to Mount Clemens.

Congratulations to Mr. Case and to the team on achieving a highly successful season.

Activities

The Tierra of a Court Member,

Homecoming spirit week began Monday October 16 as dress up day. In contrast to Monday's dressy attire, Tuesday, or clashing colors day, and Wednesday, crazy hats day, demonstrated the very un-chic tastes of many R. H. S. students. Thursday became school colors or blue and white day, and Friday, class colors. Participating sophomores donned their class colors of blue and gold, juniors-green and white, and seniors-red and blue.

Friday, October 20, Homecoming day, dawned cold and drizzling, but the students of R. H. S. did not allow the weather to dampen their spirits.

At 12:30, all students were dismissed from their remaining classes to attend the annual homecoming pep assembly. During the assembly, skits following the homecoming theme of movies were performed by both faculty and students. The spirit jug, causing a voice straining competition between classes, created a general air of enthusiasm. The junior class was awarded the title of best spirit week participation. The seniors were accredited with the best skit, for the second year and the winners of the spirit jug, for the ninth pep assembly in succession. Near the close of the assembly, candidates for homecoming queen and the under class court were presented to the student body. From the sophomore class, court members Jo Collins and Barbara Foster were applauded. The junior class selected for their court participants Nancy Capaldi and Barbara Taylor. Senior candidates for homecoming queen were Brenda Cornelius, Karol Koza and Diane Willits. Varsity cheerleaders were presented with corsages. A parade guiding the entire student body and participating faculty members took the R. H. S. classes and club floats into the heart of Rochester. Classes followed their respective floats in orderly succession. Judges awarded the first prize to the seniors and second to the juniors. The Rochester Timing Association contributed the most original and interesting club car.

Homecoming game was played at eight o'clock against the Troy Colts. During half time, the R. H. S. band performed several selections as they rotated to form an "R" and a crown at center field. Brenda Cornelius was crowned homecoming queen to reign over the remainder of Homecoming evening and the Homecoming dance: "My Fair Lady," October 21, 1965.

The Girls Succeeded

"Dogpatch" set the mood for the annual Sadie Hawkins dance sponsored by the Conservation Club. The Cafeteria was adorned with streamers of tin cans and ropes while logs and pieces of burlap provided sitting space. Dressed in traditional L'il Abner and Daisy Mae costumes, the girls dragged their guys. The center of attraction, the Marriage Booth, was officiated by Marryin' Sam. Some of the guys who were married were lucky enough to be given a honeymoon ride around "Dogpatch" in a wagon pulled by their new bride. Prizes were given for the best costumes and best corsage.

In a "Wonderland by Night," couples drifted beneath colored lights and twinkling stars. Paper tree ornaments with the name of a couple, decorated the wall. The Varsity Band, sponsors of the dance, hired the Van-Dels to play.

J-Hop

"Lollipops and Roses" surrounded the dancers at the junior prom. The atmosphere began at the dance's entrance, where a red and white-suited doorman held open the door for arriving couples. The motif continued onto the dance floor with roses centering each table and lollipops decorating the walls. A lollipop tree grew in one corner. Beneath twinkling, colored lights, the couples danced to slow and fast songs played by "The We Who Are." The juniors served cake and punch.

Shut-up and keep dancing.

The "We Who Are" played for the couples in a land of lollipops and roses.

Boy, is it hard to blow up this basketball.

With a mixer the first week-end of school, the Student Council began its year. Planning Homecoming on October 22, the Council coordinated the clubs and classes for a successful week-end.

To promote school spirit, the Council organized a Pep Club which made spirit signs and participated in pep assemblies.

The Student Council engineered a fund raising drive in the school for a new community war memorial resulting in the students raising one third of the necessary funds. In the spring, the Council organized a paper back book drive for soldiers in Viet Nam and ran a campaign to collect supplies and materials for Viet Nameese orphans.

The Council sold slaves for Slave Day and tickets for a Philistine Friday. Joining the sounds of many local bands, the council sponsored the "Battle of the Bands" sock hop, April 23. On May 9, RHS students took over the town offices for a Government Day organized by the Student Council. Also in May, the Council presented three Austrian folksingers at an assembly and closed the year with Falcon Day, the annual field day.

The Talon, the paper of Rochester High School, is published once a month. For the first time in eight years, a journalism class, taught by Mrs. Meyer, writes and lays-out the news. Business and photography are handled extracurricularly by students, not the class. The typing classes aid the staff by publishing a special "memory issue" dedicated to the seniors.

The four departments of the FALCON staff begin each spring to prepare the yearbook. Working over the summer, the editor and assistant editor plan the pages and outline the book. In the fall, the business staff sells advertisements, and later, subscriptions. The art staff designs the cover and division pages. The photography staff records the year in pictures and the literary staff prepares copy to describe each event. With pride, the yearbook staff presents to you the 1966 FALCON.

Ski Team

The varsity ski team brought many honors to itself and to Rochester High School. One of eight schools in the Holly Ski League, Rochester finished third. At the regional meet, RHS produced the best time and came in first, becoming south-eastern Michigan champions. The team won a trophy for the school's show case.

At the season's end, Glen Petaja, junior, was named to the All-conference Team. Bob Burton received honorable mention.

The chorus line of RHS begins one of its better routines.

Come on you boys, play right!

WHY STUDY...

if the machine knows the answers?

If you studied all your life you wouldn't amass as much information as a computer can digest in a few seconds. At the National Bank of Detroit, for example, a computer can sort, process and do all the record-keeping for a million checks a day . . . without even breathing hard.

Does this mean the world will run out of work for people to do? No. At NBD we employ MORE people than we did before automation. Machines do the drudgery; people—with training, knowledge, judgment—are needed more than ever.

That is why we urge you to get all the education you can . . . and, when you are ready for employment, remember that among the many diversified jobs at NBD, there may be one just right for you.
