

The Friends of the Rochester Hills Public Library invite you to attend a tour of the Parade Company in Detroit Michigan, on Thursday, November 7th at 1:00 pm. All proceeds will benefit Library programs.

Every Thanksgiving morning, while you are having a leisurely breakfast, you have the TV tuned to “America’s Thanksgiving Parade” and ooh and ahh at the many floats. Wouldn’t it be neat to see those floats up close and personal as they are being constructed? Now’s your chance. The walking guided tour of The Parade Company’s 200,000 square feet will last about an hour and will take you behind the scenes to see magic being made. All are welcome and the tour is wheelchair and walker friendly. FYI, the Thanksgiving parade in Detroit started in 1924.

Tour participants will meet at 9500 Mt. Elliott, Studio A • Detroit, MI 48211. More details about the tour are included on the back of this form.
